From the Pastor

Greetings in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ! The first few months after a new pastor arrives at a congregation are exciting. New relationships are being built, the future seems full of possibilities and we are all learning to trust God together – especially when unexpected challenges arise. My experience has shown me that being intentional about transitions can provide long-term benefits. With this in mind, the SPRC and I have developed a plan for the next several months. There are three (3) separate elements, each building upon the other, to provide a foundation for our future together as pastor and people. The gatherings are open to everyone who attends Aldersgate UMC, not just members. In fact, everyone is not only invited but encouraged to attend. Here are the 3 events planned.

1) SHARING OUR STORIES: SMALL GROUP GATHERINGS — The building of relationships is one of the most important things that can happen during transition. And let's face it, while we can get to know names and faces on Sundays, our passing conversations don't really allow for us to get to know one another. One way to facilitate getting to know one another is to hold "cottage meetings." These gatherings will include a max of 8 people and will be a time for me to hear your stories – about life, about faith, about you! There are already 7 of these gatherings scheduled. Please look elsewhere in the Hinge for more details.

2) SHARING OUR STORY: HISTORY NIGHT — Don't be fooled by the name...this will not be like History Class in school. Rather than coming to be told about the history of Aldersgate UMC, you will be telling the history. The goal is to honor God in the history of our church. This evening is about moving forward from where we are while understanding how we have been shaped by the past. We will begin with the earliest pastor those present can remember and move forward one pastor at a time. Questions will include: What was happening at the church during this time? What celebrations do you remember? What challenges did you face? A date has not yet been set but expect to hear more soon.

3) THE NEXT CHAPTER: CONFLICT TRANSFORMATION SKILLS FOR CHURCHES WORKSHOP — Conflict can be found wherever there are individuals with their own opinions and ideas. Therefore, conflict is a given in the church, even a church as faithful as Aldersgate. You may not know, I spent several years coaching and consulting with leaders and churches (in addition to serving as a pastor). One of the tools I offered was this workshop developed by the Lombard Mennonite Peace Center. The goal of our time together will be to begin to look at conflict as potentially creative and uniting as opposed to destructive and dividing. We will learn a common language to use around conflict as well as some basic tools to use when we face conflict as individuals and as a church! The workshop will take place beginning Friday evening and ending Saturday afternoon. Expect a date to be set for early winter.

As Paul wrote, "I'm sure about this: the one who started a good work in you will stay with you to complete the job by the day of Christ Jesus." (Phil. 1:9 CEB). It is my prayer that God will use these events to continue God's good work among us. I am excited to see what God has in store. — Peace, Pastor Wilson

Nursery Volunteers Needed

Do you have a heart for children? Our nursery is in need of volunteers for both the 9:30 & 11:00 services to take care of our children ages 0-5 while their parents worship. A background check and an online Safe Sanctuary Training are required for any volunteer (see below for the next training opportunity). If there is no supervision available for the nursery the options for parents/guardians are: (1) parents may watch their own child/children in the nursery while listening to the service OR (2) take your child/children to the crying room in the back of the sanctuary by the sound board where you can see and hear the service. Contact Debbie Simm (585) 355-6661 if you would like to volunteer or have any questions.

Training for Volunteers Available

Be reminded that anyone who volunteers to work with our children, youth and vulnerable adults (including our 60+ folks) are required to attend this training. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact Jan Rothfuss.

Sharing Our Stories: Small Group Gatherings

Pastor Wilson and the SPRC have planned 7 small group gatherings. These will be hosted by folks from the congregation and will be held in their homes or hosted in the parlor at the church. These meetings will be an opportunity for those present to share more about themselves (but nothing you don't want to...lol). In fact, you are welcome to attend even if you are not comfortable sharing anything at all. While this is a chance for Pastor Wilson to get to know you better, it is also a chance for you to learn more about people you don't know so well. Therefore, please, try to attend a group where you don't know everyone. Below is a list of the meetings that have been scheduled with the host (thank you Candy Metzger). If "parlor" isn't indicated it will be at the host's home. Sign up sheets will be on a table in the gathering space at church. Each group is limited to 8 people (for the sake of time).

- Tuesday, September 9, at 7:00 PM - Debbie Simm (parlor at church)
- Thursday, September 11, at 7:00 PM - Bobbie Mohrmann
- Friday, September 12, at 7:00 PM - Nan Keller
- Tuesday, September 16, at 1:00 PM - Sue Zorn (parlor at church)
- Thursday, September 18, at 1:00 PM - Karen Sladden
- Saturday, September 20, at 10:00 AM - Bobbie Eckert
- Sunday, September 21, at 1:00 PM - Jerry Sisson (parlor at church)

Worship Committee Seeks Volunteers

Worship is how we praise and celebrate our God through the word, scripture, music, prayer, communion and so much more. Our Pastor and music directors lead us in setting our worship environment. The worship committee works to support them and our congregations during our services and behind the scenes. Currently we have several areas where we could use more support. If everyone would help 3 or 4 time a year, as able, it would make a huge difference. The areas where we could most use more people power are (with coordinators listed):

A/V (Juan Ruiz), Choir Members (Savannah Norton), CWT (Brandon Kelley), Nursery, especially for 11:00 service (Debbie Simm), PowerPoint slides (Maureen Whalen), Security during services (Mark DeVincentis), Ushers (Susan DeVincentis - 9:30 service, Nancy Young - 11:00 service), and Coffee Hour help. Orientation and/or training are provided for some areas. Volunteers are welcome in any area whether "listed" or not. Pastor Wilson and Bobbi Mohrmann (committee chair) are available for any questions or information. Thank you for prayerfully considering these requests.

Update on African School Building Project

“Education is for improving the lives of others and for leaving your community and world better than you found it.” Marian Wright Edelman

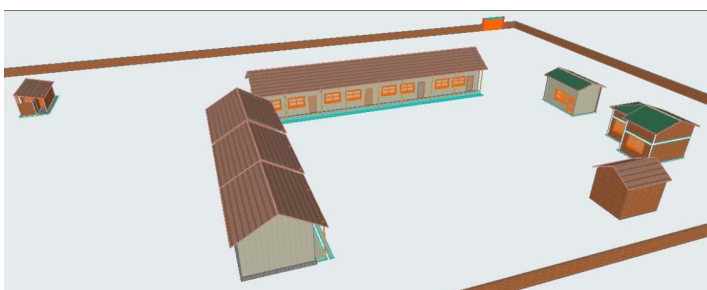

The school building project we are supporting in the Nakivale Refugee Settlement continues to move forward. Pastor Renzha spent a month in June/July in Nakivale working with the engineers and supervising construction.

The second Classroom building, with six Classrooms, is now complete. It is located next to the four Classroom building that I reported to you in the June “Hinge,” presenting video links showing the children actively learning how to count in English. The picture above shows the two Classroom buildings.

We are now preparing to build the Canteen. Since this building will be next to a road, we need to first install a culvert under the road to direct rain water, from storms and the rainy season downpours, away from the area. This first step is in process now. Then the construction of the Canteen as the next building will begin.

We continue to need financial support at whatever level you can give, so we can complete building this valuable education campus. Please mark your donations “For African School Project.”

Lay Director of Ebenezer Hope Ministries International

Devotional: Don't Leave Without It!

Mark 4:36 “Leaving the crowd, they took Him along with them in the boat.”

My work is, and has been for most of the past 25 years, ‘in the field,’ as it’s professionally known. I’ve had several periods where I’ve been lucky enough to work at the same house 5 days a week. If I left without something, it would be there when I went back the next day. Then there were other times when I left something at a house that I only worked at once a week or had substituted at and would not go back to at all. I could fill a store aisle with the number of earbuds, water bottles, hats, gloves and even house-shoes I’ve left behind. And that’s nothing compared to the number of times I’ve left my house without the medical gloves, mask and ID badge I’m supposed to take with me.

All of these things, though, are superficial. I hold them in my hand or a pocket or bag. I take them off, or out of that pocket or bag, when I arrive at a client’s houses and should put them back there before I leave, but sometimes forget to. There is one thing, though, that I’ve had for almost the same 25 years I’ve been doing this work, that I’m more careful not to leave behind. And that’s good, because it’s as important to doing my job — or anything else I do in life — or even more important than anything I do take with me. I’m talking about my relationship with God and Jesus, and the inner-strength, patience, love and compassion that gives me. As long as I take Him with me, He won’t let me leave Him behind.

The Disciples survived the ups and downs of that storm because they had Jesus with them, and I have come through many ups and downs at work and in life because I’ve had Him with me. I love the emphasis, though, of how the Bible words that passage. They “took Jesus” with them. It was a deliberate choice and action. Yes; Jesus chose to die for us but then we have to choose Him back; choose to take Him with us everywhere we go.

Some of us are in transitional times in this new season; new schools, or at least new classes, or new jobs. Others are simply starting a new day of the job you’ve had for 10, 15 or 25 years. You will either have new books and notebooks, or ID badges and passwords to remember — or forget — to take with you or leave behind. But whatever you take with you, or forget to take, don’t leave home or go back home without God in your heart, guiding your steps. Your new school year, new job or just new day — and every day— will be better for it.

Blessings, Sharon Bartter
